

Shelf Motivation – Getting Started

Sometimes the toughest step to getting organized is getting started. It can seem like such a daunting task that you feel defeated before you even start. Here are some tips to get you motivated.

1. Pick an area that is not too big. Don't plan to organize your whole home tomorrow. Start in one room or even one area of a room, like a closet or a desk.
2. Start with something easy, like an area that you know has lots of things you are going to get rid of.
3. Don't try to do it when you are tired. Organizing requires many small decisions and these are tough to make when you are dead on your feet.
4. Decide you are going to do the job and stop putting it off. You will never get organized if you continue to think "I have to do that someday". Schedule some time and actually plan to do it.
5. Plan a reward for yourself once the job is done.

Cherri Hurst, Professional Organizer
Hurst Class Organizing
416-241-7618

cherri@hurstclass.com

www.hurstclass.com

"Helping you achieve shelf control"

For more tips on how to get organized come and hear Cherri Hurst, Professional Organizer talk on January 7, 2006 at Forever Interiors.....